

About Alan Willett

Alan Willett is the master of the friction point where business needs meet implementation reality. Alan transforms that heat into innovation to get remarkable results.

What People are saying about Alan

“In my 25 years of running a business Alan is the best consultant I have hired for bringing together people and process. He has a way that brings people together to own the issues and make the changes that are necessary for improvement.”

Steff McGonagle

CEO, Envisage Systems

Alan's Speaking Topics

Alan talks covers a wide range of leadership areas. Each talk is custom fit to the audience.

Exceptional Leadership

Explore with Alan the key differences between good management and exceptional leadership. Real-world stories illuminate the key principles. Participants are energized to reach for the exceptional.

Lead With Speed

The key to modern leadership is the ability to lead at great speeds, even more importantly, to be able to continually accelerate. Alan previews the breakthrough thinking in his next book. Get ready to Accelerate.

Friction Point Innovation

People fear the heat of natural friction points. The more important the project, the greater the friction and its heat. Alan says this heat is the very birthplace of new ideas. Explore the key techniques to transform friction to innovation.

What people are saying about Alan Willett's latest book

“Alan is a master chef and the chapters within his book are his recipes for success. Having tried his recipes I can say the final dish is a delight. Alan always has a guiding manner when it seems all is lost.”

Steve Watkin, Engineering Director
ASM Pacific Technology